The Society of Fellows began in the fall of 1980 with a weekend seminar devoted to questions in applied ethics. The first class of fellows inducted at the formal inauguration of the society in December 1981 was named after distinguished philosopher and Pace faculty member William Barrett. Since then, a new class has been inducted annually and named after a member of our society who has made a significant contribution to the ideals that we hold important. To date, more than 700 students, faculty, and alumni hold the distinction of Fellow of Dyson College.

The Society of Fellows is the premier honors organization in Dyson College. The society fosters dialogue and scholarship across the fields of the arts and sciences through enriching experiences for students with exceptional academic and artistic abilities. The Society of Fellows provides students with opportunities to develop intellectual interests and present their research and creativity to the university community. Membership in the Society of Fellows gives recognition to advanced levels of student participation and achievement. Faculty who participate in Society of Fellows events and sponsor students also receive recognition as fellows.

Each fall the Society of Fellows sponsors the Weekend Seminar in which students, faculty, and alumni engage in discussions on a chosen topic in a casual, off-campus setting—usually in upstate New York. At the Annual Meeting of the Society of Fellows, which is a one-day student conference held in early spring, students showcase their faculty-mentored scholarly research and artistic projects. Transactions, the official publication of the fellows, features outstanding work written by Pace University students under the sponsorship of faculty members, many of whom are fellows. New members are recognized at the Initiation Ceremony held at the end of the spring semester. More information about the Society of Fellows is available at <https://www.pace.edu/dyson/life-dyson/society-of-fellows>.
