

Leake & Watts

Together We Rise, New York City

The Yonkers-based nonprofit Leake & Watts held its annual gala, titled Together We Rise, on Oct 26 at The Pierre Hotel in Manhattan. More than 300 guests attended the sold-out event, which raised in excess of $700,000 for the nonprofit. Top: Tess Wachs; MSNBC anchor and NBC news correspondent Stephanie Ruhle; and Ellen Polansky, senior executive and coordinating partner, Ernst & Young. Inset: Alan Mucatel, executive director Leake & Watts, and Lisa Preddice of PwC.

Business Council of Westchester

Annual Dinner, Rye Brook

A record 900 people attended the Business Council of Westchester's (BCW) Annual Dinner on Nov 20 at the Hilton Westchester in Rye Brook. First Lady, Secretary of State, and the nation's first female major-party presidential nominee, Hillary Rodham Clinton, was the keynote speaker of the event. Pictured: BCW president and CEO Marsha Gordon; the Honorable Hillary Rodham Clinton; and Anthony Justic, BCW board chairman.

Pace University

Evening Reception, Bedford Hills

On Oct 28, Pace University held an evening reception at the Glen Arbor Golf Club in Bedford Hills to welcome Marvin Krislov as the university's new president. Krislov was inaugurated the next day, during a ceremony at Pace. Pictured: Sarah Lawrence College president Cristle Collins Judd and Pace University president Marvin Krislov.

Jacob Burns Film Center

Dance on Film Opening Night, Pleasantville

Pleasantville's Jacob Burns Film Center held an opening-night event for the center's annual Dance on Film series on Nov 1. After a screening of the film Rudolf Nureyev: Dance to Freedom, American Ballet Theatre and Bolshoi Ballet principal dancer David Hallberg and choreographer Peter Pucci joined in conversation with the audience. Pictured: Jacob Burns Film Center executive director Edie Demas with dancer David Hallberg.

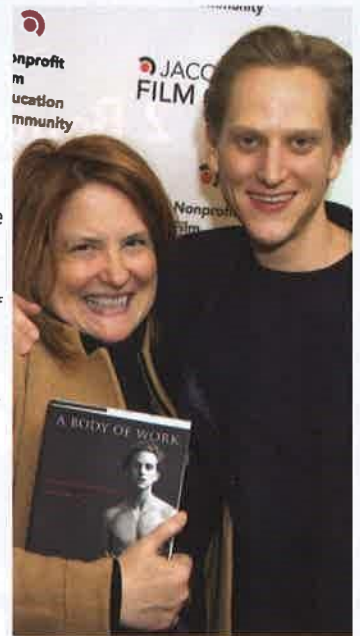

PHOTO BY LYNDIA SHENKMAN CURTIS

Greenwich Chamber of Commerce

Women Who Matter Luncheon, Greenwich

The Greenwich Chamber of Commerce hosted its Women Who Matter Luncheon at the Greenwich Country Club on Nov 16. Gretchen Carlson, former FOX News correspondent and nationally recognized speaker, discussed her new book, Be Fierce: Stop Harassment and Take Your Power Back. Pictured: Marcia O'Kane, president and CEO of the Greenwich Chamber of Commerce, with featured speaker Gretchen Carlson.

PHOTO BY LYNDIA SHENKMAN CURTIS

Share your event photos by submitting to eventphotos@westchestermagazine.com.